Review of Australian Standards. To keep abreast of progress in industry, Australian Standards are subject to periodic review and are kept up to date by the issue of amendments or new editions as necessary. It is important therefore that Standards users ensure that they are in possession of the latest edition, and any amendments thereto.

Full details of all Australian Standards and related publications will be found in the Standards Australia Catalogue of Publications; this information is supplemented each month by the magazine 'The Australian Standard', which subscribing members receive, and which gives details of new publications, new editions and amendments, and of withdrawn Standards.

Suggestions for improvements to Australian Standards, addressed to the head office of Standards Australia, are welcomed. Notification of any inaccuracy or ambiguity found in an Australian Standard should be made without delay in order that the matter may be investigated and appropriate action taken.

This Standard was issued in draft form for comment as DR 99125.

PREFACE

This Standard was prepared by the Joint Standards Australia/Standards New Zealand Committee ME/20, Internal Combustion Engines. It is identical with and has been reproduced from ISO 7967-8:1994, Reciprocating internal combustion engines—Vocabulary of components and systems, Part 8: Starting systems.

This Standard is the result of a consensus among the representatives on the Joint Committee to produce it as an Australian Standard.

The Standards in the series are as follows:

AS
4591	Internal combustion engines—Vocabulary of components and systems
4591.1	Part 1: Structure and external covers
4591.2	Part 2: Main running gear
4591.3	Part 3: Valves, camshaft drive and actuating mechanisms
4591.4	Part 4: Pressure charging and air/exhaust gas ducting systems
4591.5	Part 5: Cooling systems
4591.6	Part 6: Lubricating systems
4591.7	Part 7: Governing systems
4591.8	Part 8: Starting systems (this Standard)
4591.9	Part 9: Control and monitoring systems

As this Standard is reproduced from an International Standard the following applies:

(a) Terminology

(i) The words ‘this Australian Standard’ should replace the words ‘this part of ISO 7967’ whenever they appear.

(ii) The words ‘internal combustion engines’ should replace the words ‘reciprocating internal combustion engines’ whenever they appear.

(b) Decimal comma The decimal point should replace the decimal comma whenever it appears.

(c) Cross-reference The reference to International Standards should be replaced by references to Australian Standards as follows:

Reference to International Standard		Australia Standard
ISO		AS
2710	Reciprocating internal combustion engines—Vocabulary
2701-1	Part 1: Terms of engine design and operation	—

Users of Standards are reminded that copyright subsists in all Standards Australia publications and software. Except where the Copyright Act allows and except where provided for below no publications or software produced by Standards Australia may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system in any form or transmitted by any means without prior permission in writing from Standards Australia. Permission may be conditional on an appropriate royalty payment. Requests for permission and information on commercial software royalties should be directed to the head office of Standards Australia.

Standards Australia will permit up to 10 percent of the technical content pages of a Standard to be copied for use exclusively in-house by purchasers of the Standard without payment of a royalty or advice to Standards Australia.

Standards Australia will also permit the inclusion of its copyright material in computer software programs for no royalty payment provided such programs are used exclusively in-house by the creators of the programs.

Care should be taken to ensure that material used is from the current edition of the Standard and that it is updated whenever the Standard is amended or revised. The number and date of the Standard should therefore be clearly identified.

The use of material in print form or in computer software programs to be used commercially, with or without payment, or in commercial contracts is subject to the payment of a royalty. This policy may be varied by Standards Australia at any time.
