Standards Australia wishes to acknowledge the participation of the expert individuals that contributed to the development of this Standard through their representation on the Committee and through the public comment period.

Keeping Standards up-to-date

Australian Standards® are living documents that reflect progress in science, technology and systems. To maintain their currency, all Standards are periodically reviewed, and new editions are published. Between editions, amendments may be issued.

Standards may also be withdrawn. It is important that readers assure themselves they are using a current Standard, which should include any amendments that may have been published since the Standard was published.

Detailed information about Australian Standards, drafts, amendments and new projects can be found by visiting www.standards.org.au

Standards Australia welcomes suggestions for improvements, and encourages readers to notify us immediately of any apparent inaccuracies or ambiguities. Contact us via email at mail@standards.org.au, or write to Standards Australia, GPO Box 476, Sydney, NSW 2001.

PREFACE

This Standard was prepared by the Standards Australia Committee CS-059, Spa Pools, to supersede AS 2610.1—1993.

This Standard incorporates Amendment No. 1 (September 2011). The changes required by the Amendment are indicated in the text by a marginal bar and amendment number against the clause, note, table, figure or part thereof affected.

The objective of this Standard is to provide designers, specifiers, construction personnel and operators within the industry with information for the installation and operation of spas in order to standardize the industry generally and, in particular, safety aspects associated with spas in Australia

This edition incorporates the following major changes:

- (a) Inclusion of requirements for ventilation and room surface for spa pools installed indoors.
- (b) Amendment of requirements for walkway steps.
- A1 | (c) ‘Text deleted’.
- (d) Inclusion of requirement for the frequency of disposal of waste water.
- (e) Expansion of chemical operational parameters to include free bromine/chlorine and ozone.
- (f) Inclusion of limitations for Escherichia coli, coliforms and Pseudomonas aeruginosa.

AS 2610.1—1983 will be withdrawn following substantial regulatory implementation of this edition, or within two years of publication of this edition, whichever is the earlier.

The terms ‘normative’ and ‘informative’ have been used in this Standard to define the application of the appendix to which they apply. A ‘normative’ appendix is an integral part of a Standard, whereas an ‘informative’ appendix is only for information and guidance.

Statements expressed in mandatory terms in notes to tables and figures are deemed to be requirements of this Standard.

STANDARDS AUSTRALIA

Australian StandardSpa pools*Part 1: Public spas

SECTION 1 SCOPE AND GENERAL

1.1 SCOPE

This Standard specifies requirements for the design, construction and operation of public spa pools intended for recreational use, either separately installed or forming part of a swimming pool installation. It is not applicable to spa pools with a capacity of less than 680 L, commonly known as spa baths, in accordance with AS 3861, or to spa pools that are used under the direction of medical personnel, such as hydrotherapy pools, or stationary swimming pools.

The Standard applies only to ‘public spas’, as defined in the Standard. Recommended procedures for operators of public spa pools are given in Appendix C.

NOTE: Private spas are covered by AS 2610.2.
